Ill From Drug Dose

Find Ward Guilty In British Court

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Stephen Ward was convicted today of two charges of living on the immoral earnings of prostitutes.

The society osteopath, lying gravely ill in a London hospital from an overdose of drugs, was found innocent on three other vice charges against him.

The verdict was reached on the trial's eighth day by the jury of 11 men and one woman after 4½ hours of deliberation.

Conviction on all prison charges might have meant a sentence of 25 years in prison.

Court officials said that Justice Sir Archie Marshall would not sentence Ward, if convicted, until he is well enough to be present.

Ward still was in a coma five hours after admission to the hospital. Doctors and nurses were administering oxygen in an effort to bring him around.

Christine Keeler, alleged by the prosecution to be the star attraction in a circus of prostitutes run by Ward, was stunned.

Hospital authorities indicated that Ward was expected to recover.

The presiding judge completed his summing up of the evidence and his instructions to the jury after cancelling Ward's bail of $3,000 pounds ($8,400) and instructing the police to "take the normal steps to ensure greater security" of Ward.

The five charges against Ward are all misdemeanors although they carry a possible total penalty of 25 years in prison.

Ward, 50, an osteopath and artist, was found unconscious this morning by a friend, Noel Howard Jones, in whose Chelsea district flat he had spent the night.

A resident of the building said he understood Ward had left "lots and lots of notes."

A source close to Ward said that among the notes was one to Julia Gulliver, 22, his constant companion in recent weeks; one to Barry O'Brien, a newspaper reporter who testified in his defense at the trial, and one to his lawyers.

Says RFK Covered Up For 'Red'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Mississippi state senator charged today that Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy was guilty of "a brazen cover-up job" when he said there was no evidence of Communist control of current civil rights demonstrations.

The charge was made by John C. McLaurin in testimony before the Senate Commerce Committee which is considering President Kennedy's public accommodations proposal.

McLaurin also proposed as a solution of the racial problem a massive relocation of Negroes so that the population of each state would be about 10 per cent Negro. He said the Negro population now ranges from 42 per cent in Mississippi to less than one per cent in some northern states.

McLaurin today repeated charges made earlier in the hearings by Govs. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and George Wallace of Alabama.

During his testimony two weeks ago, Barnett displayed a picture which he said showed the Rev. Martin Luther King, a Negro leader, at the Highlander Folk School in Tennessee — a school which Barnett said was a Communist training school.

Subsequently Atty. Gen. Kennedy wrote the committee that the government has no evidence that any top leaders of the major civil rights movements are Communists or Communist controlled.

McLaurin told the committee:

"When he (Kennedy) says there is no evidence that Martin Luther King or any of the top leaders of the major civil rights groups are Communists, or Communist controlled, then he has either deliberately misstated the facts or is the most ignorant attorney general this nation has ever had.

"I tell you, gentlemen, that Atty. Gen. Kennedy is not an ignorant man. I charge that he is deliberately whitewashing the Negro leadership, with which he is in daily contact, and that in doing so he has, with full knowledge, deliberately ignored pertinent facts in the files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and facts available to him, and to you, from the files of the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities or your own Senate subcommittee on internal security."

Will Close Third Street for Workers

Beginning Wednesday morning Third Street between Warren Avenue and State Fair Blvd. was closed to through traffic for several days, according to the Howard Construction Co.

A spokesman for the firm said those who live in the area affected will be able to proceed to their homes, but through traffic will be barred. The street is being closed while a portion of work on the Urban Plan highway relocation project is completed.

$63 Million Bond Issue In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A $63,306,000 St. Louis County bond issue for seven separate projects was recommended Tuesday by a bi-partisan bond issue steering committee.

The committee, in submitting the recommendations to a screening committee, suggested the bond issue be submitted to county voters Nov. 5.

William A. McDonnell, chairman of the steering committee, said the seven projects recommended were roads and highways, $40,000,000; a county government administration building, parking facilities and remodeling of the courthouse for judicial purposes, $8,800,000; parks and recreational facilities, $5,300,000; county hospital improvements, $1,500,000; purchases of new voting machines and modification of existing ones, $1,208,000 and refuse disposal $5,000,000.

The joint committee is expected to hold a closed hearing on the proposals Aug. 5. McDonnell said public hearings will be held later in the month. He said the final selections of the projects to be included on the bond issue will be made on Aug. 26.

Polygraph Test Favors Prosecution

Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz said Tuesday afternoon that a polygraph test administered to Fred Lee Baugher, 47, 2717 South Ingram, proved in favor of prosecution and Baugher will be bound over to Circuit Court for trial on a charge of stealing over $50.

Baugher, who had been scheduled for the lie detector test since June 26, was taken to Marshall Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Jack Couts. The test was administered by Saline County Sheriff Steve Rimmer.

Baugher was charged in connection with the taking of some television sets and television testing equipment from the Caldwell Radio and TV Shop, Fifth and Engineer, on June 7. The missing items were recovered at Baugher's residence by police, but he maintained he was not aware they were there.

Richard Kenneth Rayl, 20, 1323 East Fourth, was sentenced to two years in prison in Circuit Court July 24 after he pleaded guilty in connection with the case.

Prosecuting Attorney Fritz and Baugher's attorney, William F. Brown, reached an agreement following Baugher's arraignment in Magistrate Court that the results of the lie detector test would determine whether or not Baugher was bound over for Circuit Court trial.

Mayor, Council To Hear Report On City Study

Mayor L. L. Studer and members of the City Council meet tonight at 7 p.m. in the mayor's office with a representative of the Hare & Hare Planning Firm, Kansas City, to discuss the updating of Sedalia's municipal plan.

Expected to be foremost in the discussion is the planning firm's recommendations on off-street parking lots. A group of influential downtown merchants are supporting a proposal to construct Sedalia's 14th off-street parking lot at the corner of Second and Ohio, where three vacant buildings would be razed.

Mayor Studer said the Chamber of Commerce will also be represented at the meeting as the chamber is studying the possibility of having an industrial potential survey made of the city by Midwest Research Institute of Kansas City.

The two surveys would complement each other. The Hare & Hare study establishes planning goals and the industrial survey points up the city's assets and liabilities toward attracting new industry.

Believe Case Isolated

Korea Vigilance By Top Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. military chiefs watched today for signs indicating whether the out break of shooting incidents in Korea might foreshadow major action by the Communists.

So far, the disposition in the Pentagon is to regard the incidents this week as isolated.

Any further ambushes by North Korea's Red marauders or encounters with them could raise the level of concern, sources said, because they might point to development of an offensive pattern.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff were being kept abreast of the situation along the demilitarized zone, but for the present were leaving the reins in the hands of U.S. commanders in Korea.

There has been no special alert of American forces outside Korea, authorities said.

In South Korea, patrols have been strengthened and vigilance increased along the 150-mile no-man's-land separating Communist and non-Communist halves of the country.

Three U.S. soldiers and a South Korean policeman have been killed this week battling raiders near the demilitarized zone. Four North Korean Communists infiltrators died violently Tuesday six miles south of the armistice line. A U.N. spokesman said two of the infiltrators committed suicide when surrounded.

American diplomatic officials studied the flare-up in Korea against the background of the Chinese Communist cleavage with the Soviet Union and Red China's espousal of a hard line against the West.

The North Koreans have aligned themselves with the Red Chinese, who supported them in the Korean conflict.

A State Department spokesman, Richard I. Phillips, said Tuesday the North Koreans' aggressiveness appears to be a demonstration of truculence connected with the 10th anniversary of the armistice which brought an end to big-scale fighting in Korea.

"However, I would not want to exclude the possibility of their being linked to wider developments in Asia," Phillips said.

By this he meant reports of a Red Chinese military buildup along India's frontier, which Communist Chinese troops penetrated last fall.

Phillips told newsmen there have been no reports of troop movements inside China.

The United States and South Korea are in an infinitely better military position than they were 13 years ago when the North Koreans poured across the 38th Parallel in a surprise attack.

The only American fighting men in Korea then were about 500 military advisers stationed with Korean forces. The last U.S. combat troops had been pulled out more than a year before.

The South Korean army in mid-1950 had only about 65,000 combat-ready men and was badly outgunned by the North Koreans. The South Korean air force numbered 22 planes.

Thomas McNally Dead at 80

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP) — Thomas McNally, 80, who turned a small boiler works into a company that has built and installed coal processing machinery in all parts of the world, died Tuesday night.

He has been ill about a year.

McNally was chairman of the board of the McNally Pittsburg Manufacturing Corp. He was president of the corporation from 1906, when his father died, until 1955, when he turned the presidency over to his son, Edward T. McNally.

Thomas McNally's father established a boiler works in Pittsburg in 1889 to serve the area's many deep shaft coal mines in a period when mechanical equipment was operated by steam. After his father's death, to keep pace with the electrification of mines, McNally switched from boilers to the manufacture of coal processing equipment.

His salesmen and engineers traveled the globe, as representatives of private interests and many foreign governments with coal lands to develop often came here for advice from McNally and his staff.

McNally Pittsburg built the first all-steel tipple in Kansas in 1924, and in 1929 acquired American production rights to a coal washing process perfected in England.

McNally was a key man in the organization of the corporation that built Pittsburg's Besse Hotel, and in the formation of Mid-American Inc., a pioneer in the promotion of industrial development in southeastern Kansas.

He also organized the corporation which built facilities for the age-search branch of the Bureau of the Census, which moved from Pittsburg to Washington in 1958.

McNally was a director of the Kansas City Southern Railway Co. the Kansas Gas & Electric Co., and the National Bank of Pittsburg. He was a trustee of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, and of Rockhurst College, Kansas City.

Road Work Bids Call Near Billion

The Missouri State Highway Commission has issued a call for bids on Aug. 22 on an estimated $9,750,000 in highway construction and improvements.

The call covers a total of 97 miles of the state's roads and highways and extends into 30 counties. It includes 11.8 miles of interstate system work estimated at $4,000,000, another 11.9 miles of primary system route projects estimated to cost $4,000,000, for 66.8 miles of secondary (farm to market) system roads and 6½ miles of defense road work estimated at $1,750,000.

A defense road in Johnson County is the only project in this immediate area. This is Route 131—4.3 miles grading, bridging and surfacing from U.S. Route 50, at Pittsville, south. Includes a double 11 by 10-foot concrete box culvert at Dry Branch and a quadruple 10 by 8-foot like culvert at Shafer Branch.

Red China Rejects Test Ban Treaty

Indicates Formal Break With Soviet Union Is Near

TOKYO (AP) — Red China officially rejected the U. S. - British - Soviet nuclear test ban agreement today in an attack on the Soviet government indicating Peking may be near a formal break with Moscow.

A government statement distributed by the official New China news agency said the Peking regime would not adhere to the pact initialed in Moscow last week because the agreement's main purpose was to bar Red China from obtaining nuclear weapons.

The statement described the partial test ban pact as a "dirty fraud" and said it was designed "to prevent all the threatened peace-loving countries, including China, from increasing their defense capability."

"The indisputable facts prove," it said, "that the policy pursued by the Soviet government is one of allying with the forces of war to oppose the forces of peace, allying with imperialism to oppose socialism, allying with the United States to oppose China, and allying with the reactionaries of all countries to oppose the people of the world."

There is no record of a similar public criticism by the Peking government of the government of Russia. The language was the kind usually employed by a government which contemplates some serious step in relation to the other.

The Chinese and Russians have in the past few years used endless words to criticize each other. But until today they have done so only on the Communist party level.

New Military Commander For Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Hamilton H. Howze, who takes command today in Korea, is a ramrod paratrooper who is no stranger to that tinderbox—or to trouble.

Two years ago, Howze, 54, headed the military assistance group advising South Korea's army.

Since then, things have moved swiftly for Howze, who fought in World War II in North Africa and Italy.

He joined the development command at Continental Army Command headquarters. Then he took over Strategic Army Command and XVIII Airborne Corps at Ft. Bragg, at the same time heading the Army Mobility Board.

When the racial crisis broke out over integration at the University of Mississippi, Howze was sent to Oxford to command the federal troops.

The lean, square-jawed officer reportedly was picked personally by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for the Korean job in which he replaces retiring Gen. Guy S. Meloy.

Howze is taking on three jobs: commander of the 8th Army, all of U.S. forces—Army, Air Force and Navy—in Korea, and of all U.N. forces—American, South Korean and token Turkish and Thai forces which have remained there since the Korean War.

Howze looks and acts like a general—and should. He was born at West Point. His father was Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howze, and his brother is retird Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howze Jr.

One Dies in Crash

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP) — An automobile went off U.S. 24 while passing a truck Tuesday and rolled over several times, killing James W. Sutton, 12, of Kansas City.

The car was driven by Edward Duett, 53, the boy's uncle, the Highway Patrol said. Duett and Clarence Davidson, 50, both of Kansas City, were treated for injuries at a Lexington hospital.

The accident happened about 3 miles west of Lexington.

Medical Indigent Plan; MU Branches Are Out

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. John M. Dalton today vetoed bills to set up four - year branches of the University of Missouri at Joplin and St. Joseph and to establish a program of medical care for the "near needy."

He said he thought it would be moving "a little too fast" to set up colleges at Joplin and St. Joseph when the university already has been authorized to establish branches at St. Louis and Kansas City.

He vetoed the medical care bill for the medically indigent because, he said, no one knows how much it would cost.

The vetoes mean, the governor said, that he also will eliminate from the final catchall appropriation bill $500,000 for the medical care program, $240,000 to convert the Joplin Junior College to a four-year school and $50,000 for the conversion of the St. Joseph Junior College.

Dalton said sponsors of the Joplin - St. Joseph bill "haven't shown any great need" for new four-year colleges. Both cities are within 40 miles of several other colleges, he noted.

The governor said he was well aware of the problems the state faces because of booming college enrollments.

"Undoubtedly a further expansion of higher education facilities will be necessary in the near future," he wrote in his veto message.

"I believe, however, that any such expansion should be part of a well prepared, comprehensive plan for the meeting of our needs in higher education. . .

"I believe that any further expansion of the University of Mis-

Test Treaty Delegation Is Selected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and a bipartisan delegation including five senators will leave for Moscow Friday night to attend the formal signing of the nuclear test ban treaty.

The White House announced the plan today and named the senatorial delegates as Democrats J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and John O. Pastore of Rhode Island; and Republicans Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and George Aiken of Vermont.

The list notably omitted Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader from Illinois and Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Both of these Republican leaders have indicated they did not want to attend the Moscow signing and have left it open as to how they might vote on the atomic test ban treaty when it comes before the Senate for ratification.

A White House source told newsmen that neither Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, nor Dirksen had been invited because of a feeling that their presence was needed here in view of the Senate work load.

The source said he did not know whether President Kennedy had talked to Drksen on the matter. He declined to discuss what other senators miht have been considered for the trip and their response.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married four years. We have a two-year-old son. The problem is tantrums — not the boy's but his father's.

If Woodrow can't find what he is looking for he pulls everything out of the drawer and leaves it on the floor. Several months ago he broke his toe kicking the furniture. This spring he sprained his wrist punching a dent in the car because it was out of gas.

Last week when Woodrow got hold of a shirt with a loose button he tore the collar off and left the shirt in the refrigerator so I wouldn't miss it.

Woodrow left for work this morning without speaking because I washed a theater stub in his shirt pocket. I don't know how to deal with his temper. Can you suggest something?—MOLLY.

Dear Molly: Deal with him as you would any child who has tantrums. Take all sharp objects out of his hands and ignore him.

Woodrow needs professional help but if you suggested it he'd probably have another tantrum.

Dear Ann Landers: I read where the woman from Atlanta who was named "Secretary of the Year," said a good secretary limits her personal calls to necessities and emergencies. She put it this way: "Remember, when you are in the office your time belongs to your employer."

I've been working here for three months. I, too, believe a secretary's time belongs to her employer, but what can I do when an older woman wastes at least two hours of my day?

She babbles incessantly, gossiping and airing her family troubles, reporting in detail doings of her bridge club, droning on and on until I could scream. I don't want to tattle to the office manager yet this bore reduces my productivity about 25%. what can I do?—FRUSS-TRAYTED.

Dear Fruss: Have a ready phrase and rehearse it aloud so you can say it easily. Here's a sample: "Please save it for later. I'm terribly behind right now." Then continue to work.

If you repeat this five or six times (using precisely the same words) she'll get the picture and leave you alone.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me how to maintain a healthy balance between the possessiveness of my husband's family and the indifferent attitude of my own parents.

The possessive in-laws live out of the state. They are hurt if we don't send our children to them for one month every summer. They send the kids gifts galore and phone long distance every week just to talk to them. Frankly they overdo it.

My parents are just the opposite. They live nearby, but we don't see much of them. They have never offered to sit with the kids or even taken them out for an ice cone cone.

I want our children to like both sets of grandparents the same. We hate for them to be "bought" on the one hand and ignored on the other. What do you suggest?—DOUBLE O.

Dear O: You are not going to change either set of grandparents so don't try.

And you can forget about getting the children to like both sets of grandparents "the same." All people react to the treatment they receive and coaching from the sidelines is a waste of breath.

Mr. Jerry L. Adams in Tipton Miss Barbara Kay Tomlinson Weds

Miss Barbara Kay Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tomlinson, Tipton, became the bride of Mr. Jerry L. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Adams, Clarksburg, at two o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, June 22 at First Christian Church in Tipton. The Rev. George Igo read the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with short sleeves, with lace gauntlets which came to points at the wrists. Seed pearls and sequins highlighted her front bodice and Sabrina neckline, which came to a V in back. The skirt featured three lace rosettes at the back waistline, which drifted into a bouffant lace skirt. Her silk bridal illusion veil was held by a handmade crown of simulated pearls and crystal bead trim. She carried a white Bible with a cascade of red sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Ronald Collister, Sedalia, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her street length dress of jade green lace was styled with a scooped neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and a full skirt. Her headpiece was of three white chiffon rosettes. She carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations with white streamers.

Miss Willa Adams, sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid. Her dress was like that of the matron of honor and she wore accessories of white.

Mr. Doyle Adams, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsman was Mr. Jerry David Tomlinson, brother of the bride.

Mr. Ronald Collister, Sedalia, brother-in-law of the bride, served as usher.

The mother of the bride wore a powder blue brocaded linen sheath dress. Her hat was matching blue and her accessories were white. The mother of the bridegroom chose a navy blue dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Mrs. Ralph Silvy attended the guest book. In charge of gifts were Miss Sharon Kelsay, Miss Sharon Schreck and Miss Deborah Collister, Sedalia.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. The bridal table was covered with white lace over green. The triple tiered cake held a miniature bride and bridegroom. Two crystal candelabra held lighted green and white candles. In the center of the table was a bouquet of Bells of Ireland.

The bride wore for traveling, a two piece beige suit with accessories of white. She wore a corsage of red roses from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

The bride was graduated in 1961 from Tipton High School and is employed with Weber Shoe Company, Inc. The bridegroom is a 1959 graduate of Ozark High School and works at Fischer Manufacturing Company, Tipton.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple will live south of Syracuse.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

"ONE, TWO—BEND": Push ups, Knee bends and the like are whipping American students into shape and now it's the adults' turn, or so reports the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

"Today's school children are spending more time in physical fitness programs and are measurably stronger and in better physical condition than the school children of a few years ago," the council said.

The council, which operates under the direction of University of Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson, still found a lot of flab, however.

To bring more adults into the sweat-and-strain regimen, the council endorsed a 64-page illustrated booklet full of home exercises and ways to keep fit through games.

The booklet goes on sale Aug. 20 and may be purchased for 35 cents through the Superintendent of Documents at the Government Printing Office.

UNLISTED STOCKS: The Senate has sent to the House a bill that would put over-the-counter trading in securities under the same controls and regulations now applying to major stock exchanges.

The legislation, passed in the Senate by voice vote, was recommended by the Securities and Exchange Commission after a detailed study of securities markets and practices.

SYNCOM: Swinging in a great figure-eight, the new communications satellite Syncom II is still drifting westward over Africa. Ground stations report that it is working properly.

The 79-pound space craft is intended to move to a spot over Brazil. Then its speed will be adjusted to coincide almost exactly with the earth's rotation so that it will appear to hang in space.

Syncom's mission is to provide the first satellite communications link between the United States and Africa.

Challenge Opening And Closing Law

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Twelve barbers filed a suit in Wyandotte County District Court Tuesday attacking the legality of a municipal ordinance which sets the opening and closing times for barber shops.

They charged it infringes on their liberties and amounts to a denial of the right to work.

Judge William J. Burns set a hearing for Aug. 9 and ordered the city to refrain from enforcing the ordinance pending the outcome.

The ordinance says barber shops may not open before 8 a.m. and must close at 6 p.m. except on Saturdays and the nights before holidays, when the closing time is 8 p.m.

Ecuador Approves Nuclear Test Ban

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador looks upon the American-British-Soviet nuclear test ban agreement "with deep satisfaction," and intends to sign it, a Foreign Ministry statement said Tuesday.

People In The News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Margott Perez Jimenez Brook, daughter of former Venezuelan strongman Marcos Perez Jimenez, is under treatment in Miami Beach for anemia.

Hospital officials said Tuesday her condition was fair.

The 17-year-old brunette was married to Lee Brook, 20, about a month ago after eloping to Key West, Fla.

Her father, former president of Venezuela, has been jailed in Miami since last December when a federal judge revoked his $100,000 bond pending settlement of efforts by Venezuela to extradite him on embezzlement charges.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Spencer Tracy, 63, is "improving every day," attendants at St. Vincent's Hospital say.

There has been no word on when he will leave the hospital. Tracy collapsed 10 days ago. Doctors said he had a pulmonary congestion.

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mike Douglas, the 15-year-old fisherman who lost a 33-hour battle with a huge jewfish last week, landed a 70-pound tarpon Tuesday from the same pier.

The tarpon proved no problem after Mike's struggle with the jewfish, which weighed an estimated 300 pounds. The fish got away when the line snapped.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Mary Ford has won a court order for $2,500 a month alimony from her husband and former music partner, Les Paul.

Miss Ford, 38, who said she is penniless and has been living with relatives in El Monte, Calif., testified that during the last few years she and Paul, 47, made records and personal appearances together, with annual income ranging from $250,000 to $500,000.

They have been separated since last June 19.

She said Paul controls all their assets and lives in their 29-room mansion in Mahwah, N.J., with their 3-year-old son, Robert.

The alimony order was made pending trial of Miss Ford's separate maintenance suit, which charges cruelty.

Paint and Varnish In a Fire On Interstate 70

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A big truck caught fire and its cargo of paint and varnish burned furiously for almost two hours late Tuesday night on Interstate 70 near the Missouri River bridge east of Boonville.

Traffic was blocked on the westbound lane of the super-highway for some time but was restored about 12:30 a.m. today.

No one was hurt and the damage was restricted to the truck's big trailer and its contents. The tractor was unhitched and pulled away from the burning trailer.

Trooper R. A. Niederschulte of the Missouri Highway Patrol reported the recap treading on some of the trailer's tires tore off and they got so hot they set the truck afire.

Japan Pays a Part Of War Reparations

TOKYO (AP)—Japan had paid $421,111,111 or 41.3 per cent of its World War II reparations commitments to Southeast Asian countries by the end of March, the foreign office announced Tuesday.

Japan has promised to pay $1,018,888,888 to the Philippines, Burma, Indonesia, Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

A Look at the Real Reasons Behind Segregation Today

By RELMAN MORIN

MACON COUNTY, Ala., (AP)— It is not uncommon in the South to hear a segregationist say that, by and large, he likes the Negro.

He sees no inconsistency between having an affection for Negroes and at the same time defending a system that denies them full equality. "The Negroes as a whole just aren't ready yet," he says. "It's not their fault, but that's the way it is at this point."

A key point in his reasoning is that the great majority of Negroes are like children and that, for the time being, they must be treated as such.

"When I was a kid, my best friend was a colored boy. We played together, fished together, slept side by side on hunting trips. I was in and out of his house every day and he was in mine, eating from the same kitchen table.

"After we grew up, I paid his hospital bills and loaned him money when he needed it. I went to the weddings and funerals in his family and he came to ours. On Saturday night, when he got into trouble with the law, who went to the jail at 2 a.m. and bailed him out? I did."

It was a comfortable, harmonious relationship, he says.

Even today, while racial strife rises toward the danger point in many places, you can still see this relationship between individual Negroes and whites in the south.

Here is a cotton plantation deep in Alabama.

It is about 10 miles from the nearest community, the nearest sheriff or policeman. In the county, Negroes outnumber the whites, five to one.

The doors of the planter's home are never locked. When he has to travel, he tells the Negro foreman, "I'll be away a few days. You look after things around here."

Driving into the plantation, you see a softball game in a field near the planter's house. Three of his children, including a girl, are playing with the children of the Negro "Hoe hands."

In the sun-drenched afternoon, the oldest boy goes fishing with two Negro boys. He brings the sandwiches.

Some miles away, in a corner of the plantation, an aged Negro woman sits, rocking, on the porch. She is the widow of a "hoe hand" who worked here many years. The house is hers as long as she lives. The planter asks if she is all right. "Gettin' along jes' fine," she says.

A little scene takes place in the cotton fields. Ase the Negroes stop work for their mid-day meal, the planter slips a dollar bill into a woman's hand. He tells a man to "drive her to the store."

For some reason, she had brought no food to the fields that morning. "Maybe she hasn't got any money," the planter says, "or maybe she just plain forgot. But I sure can't see her go without eating."

In the winter, when the fields are bare, he finds other work on the plantation for his "hoe hands." They have to eat in the winter, too.

The integrationist calls this "Uncle Tom-ism." and the militant Negro says it is "paternalism," archaic, degrading the Nerro, numbing his effort to develop himself.

Let's look further.

The planter frequently works in the fields beside the "hoe hands." The relationship appears completely comfortable. Little jokes—in language largely unintelligible to a Yankee—pass between them. They agree that the cotton looks good.

"Way I figure," says the Negro foreman, "the better the boss does, the better we do." There will be a bonus for them at Christmas.

He has been on this plantation 24 years, another man for 17, several others for 8 to 10 years.

The foreman once went to Florida and worked for a year. He came back. Some of the others went north for jobs. They came back, too. All of them have been to school, three, five, six years.

You see television antennae on the Negro houses. The foreman says he saw pictures of the disturbances at Birmingham and elsewhere, north and south. What did he think?

"Well," he says, "they is sorry colored folks and they is sorry white folks everywhere, and I wish they'd both jes' leave us alone."

Whether this is the attitude, generally, of the Negro field workers in Macon County is difficult to say. Even the whites who consider themselves on close personal terms with their Negroes say they don't know what "hoe hands" are thinking, as the clash and clatter of racial trouble comes nearer.

Not all segregationists, of course, profess to like Negroes.

There is the bigot, ridden with fear and hatred of the Negro, clutching his prejudices. He is the night-rider, shooting indiscriminately into Negro homes, dumping garbage on the front porch of white integrationists.

To anyone who pleads for reason and good will in the struggle over civil rights, he scrawls a "hate letter." It's misspelled, ungrammatical, frequently obscene, dripping venom.

"That type of white man," says a Southern newspaper woman, "is at the bottom of the scale and he knows it. The only thing that separates him from an equally poor, uneducated Negro is the color of his skin. He has to look down on somebody so he looks down on the Negro."

But what about the segregationist who says he has a genuine affection for his Negro friends? How does he square this with the fact of injustice and inequality?

He begins with a basic premise, a conviction that underlies most of his attitudes—that, by and large, the Negro has not yet reached a stage of development where he is ready for full equality.

"No race on earth ever made so much progress in 100 years as the Negroes have made," he says. "But they did it with the guidance of the white man and they still need our guidance."

Flowing from that comes his opposition to integrated schools.

"The Negro doesn't have the same capacity for learning," he says. "Moreover, his home environment is seldom conducive to study. So why should my children be held back to his pace? They're both better off in schools where they can advance at their own pace."

The segregationist also says that Negro children frequently come to school unbathed and wearing dirty clothes. He says they come from homes with a high rate of illegitimacy and adds, "I don't want my kids sitting next to kids who talk openly about what they have seen at home."

For similar reasons, he doesn't want his wife and daughter to sit next to a Negro in a movie theater or a lunch counter, use the same fitting rooms in a store, or the same rest rooms.

Does he really believe the Negro's ultimate goal is to "marry your daughter?" Yes, he does. He's convinced of it.

As to the Negro's right to vote, one segregationist said, "There's no reason why their best people shouldn't vote, those who are educated, literate, and able to make a judgment on candidates and issues. But there aren't many with these qualifications."

So it goes, consistently, over point after point — the assertion that the Negro's level of development is not yet at a stage where he is ready for full equality.

"What he is asking," segregationists say, "is the rights without the responsibilities."

I once asked a Southern newspaper editor, a segregationist, to itemize the five or six principal reasons why so many Southerners believe in segregation. On the back of an envelope, he set down the various points Leading his list was one word: "Habit."

High School Sinks

ZEIGLER, Ill. (AP) — A high school building on top of an abandoned mine is sinking too much to hold classes in it. A slim hope that Zeigler-Royalton Consoliated High School would sit still long enough for student use has definitely faded away, officials decided Tuesday.

Classes might have been held in the fall had the settling stopped for 30 days.

The building shows no sign of its distress. But officials said there is a danger to students from falling plaster.

souri by way of the establishment of branches should await the study of the Commission on Higher Education and the recommendations which it will make."

The governor approved a bill Tuesday setting up the higher education commission as a coordinating body for the state's colleges.

In his veto he said it is not known whether there would be enough students at Joplin and St. Joseph to justify operation of university branches there.

"Certainly we cannot afford to dilute our efforts in higher education," he said, "by the establishment of a large number of branches offering only mediocre courses of study in numerous locations throughout the state. We must strive for the highest degree of excellence in our university system. Unfortunately, the mere providing of an equipped classroom building would not guarantee excellence if other important facilities, such as libraries, for example, are not available."

In vetoing the medical care bill for the near needy, the governor noted he already has signed a bill to expand medical care for those on the welfare rolls. That is expected to cost around $10 million of federal and state funds during the next two years.

But, he said, there is no way to tell how much the medically indigent bill might cost and some states have found such programs extremely costly.

An allotment of $500,000 to start the program obviously was a sheer guess, Dalton said, because the Legislature built in a restriction to cut the grants back to fit available funds. The governor called this an unworkable plan.

The Legislature also sought to limit any future increase in the program to 3 per cent a biennium but the governor said "this again would be meaningless to future general assemblies who see fit to disregard or eliminate such provision."

The governor signed a bill to require county highway engineers to be registered professional engineers in second and third class counties of more than 50,000 population and with an assessed valuation of $70 million or more.

Carl E. Closser, 17, 212 East Tower, was sentenced to 60 days in the Pettis County jail Tuesday afternoon in Circuit Court after he pleaded guilty to a charge of tampering with a motor vehicle.

Judge Frank Hayes set the sentence on recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Fritz. Closser was credited with 13 days already spent in the jail.

The youth was charged in connection with the taking of a motorcycle July 6 from the Vance Kuhns residence, 407 North Mill. The motorcycle was the property of James Pangburn and was recovered by authorities in a field near the Lamine School in northeastern Pettis County. Two juveniles were also implicated in the motorcycle case.

Alonzo Vick, Jr. was granted a divorce from Jacqueline C. Vick in Circuit Court Wednesday. O. E. Brown was his attorney.

• Police Reports

Two dogs chased an unidentified man into a telephone booth near the Tally Ho Cafe, East Highway 50, at 10:06 p.m. Tuesday and the man used the phone to report his predicament to police.

Apparently the dogs weren't as vicious as reported, though. When Police Officers Herbert Mayfield and Joe Bass arrived the trapped man had departed, but the dogs were still on hand.

The officers contacted the dogs' owner and advised him to keep them penned up.

Joe Van Horn, proprietor of the Taystee Freeze Drive-In, 1710 West Broadway, reported the theft of a 22-inch electric fan on a four foot stand Wednesday morning. He told police the theft occurred sometime between Sunday and 6 p.m. Tuesday.

The Rev. Roland P. Cooper, 922 West 20th, is chairman of the Police Personnel Board, but his position doesn't make his property immune to theft.

Wednesday morning Rev. Cooper reported to police that two reclining lawn chairs had been stolen from his front yard sometime during the past few days. The chairs were aluminum, with green and white plastic webbing and valued at $15, he told police.

Rev. Cooper is pastor of Calvary Baptist Church.

Tommy Farris, 815 East 11th, claimed a bicycle which had been brought to the police station by Poundmaster Donald Smith. The bike had been reported stolen July 26.

Mrs. H. W. Fritts, 507 East Tenth, reported nine large bath towels and 16 pillow cases stolen from her home sometime Saturday night. She made the report at 5:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Dwight Miller, Georgetown, reported to police Tuesday evening that he lost his billfold somewhere in town Monday. It contained a small amount of cash, drivers license and other papers.

Earl L. Spellmeyer, 204 East 25th, charged with driving while intoxicated in connection with an accident, pleaded guilty and was fined $75.

Floyd J. Happel, Salem, Mo., charged with parking over 18 inches from the curb, forfeited a $2 bond.

fashion CHATTER by Lucy Lockett

Dear Lucy: I have been married several years, my husband says I am a good housekeeper, the children like my cookies, even my mother-in-law says I bake good pies, but I am unhappy. I do all my own work and sometimes after dinner I sit down and run up a little dress or trim a hat to wear to bridge club. They look like the pictures in the magazines but nobody ever whistles at me or gives me a compliment. What do I do now? Confused.

Dear Confused: Your problem may seem a big one to you, but honestly, it is very simple. You are giving a little too much and not taking enough for yourself. What you really need is to take yourself down to LOCKETT'S and get some professional advice on clothes.

The salesgirls at Lockett's are trained, experienced and qualified fashion consultants, and when you place yourself in their hands you will have that fashion magazine look. YOU can BE the smart lady in the R & K dress in August Glamour.

Then your husbands eyes will light up and your friends will shower you with compliments. And the first step on your trip to happiness is to Lockett's in the center of Sedalia.

Best of luck,
Lucy.

Second Hillbilly Series Set

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —After CBS' "Beverly Hillbillies" topped last winter's popularity ratings, the network announced that Bea Benaderet, man-hunting Cousin Pearl in the show, would star in a new series called "Ozark Widow."

This led to speculation whether television was ready for two corn-fed series. But the title of the show has been changed to "Petticoat Junction" and it bears not the slightest resemblance to "Hillbillies."

Miss Benaderet, a skillful actress in any role, developed a new character, primarily by reading the first script 75 times.

"It is in no way at all the child of 'Beverly Hillbillies,'" she said Tuesday. "It's comedy, but it's not farcical, and the comedy stems from character development."

The locale is deliberately vague so the viewer's own background and memories can place it. Bea plays an attractive, gray-haired mother of three and owner of a smalltown boarding house. Many plots revolve around passengers on a railroad spur line. Clothes are unobtrusively modern; accents are easy but not recognizable Deep South or Down East.

"The show walks a rather fine line between legitimate situations and comedy," Bea said. "It's tongue-in-cheek but never unkind."

Bea has been a featured player since 1936 but this is her first role as a star. She created a Brooklyn telephone operator, Gertie Gearshift, on the old Jack Benny shows, played a maid on "Ozzie and Harriet," a Swedish housekeeper on "Peter Loves Mary," and for eight years was George Burns and Gracie Allen's next door neighbor, Blanche Morton.

For the past couple of seasons she has been the voice of Betty Rubble on "The Flintstones."

ABC has dreamed up a novel introduction for its "Breaking Point" series about psychiatrists. It's a two-part story that starts on "Ben Casey" Sept. 9. The Patient is referred to the doctor in "Breaking Point," which premieres a week later at the same time. Casey then moves to Wednesday night, starting Sept. 18.

Rain Making Efforts Turn to Thanksgiving

JAVA, Va. (AP)—The Shockoe Baptist Church in this drought-stricken southern Virginia community agreed to hold a special prayer meeting for rain Tuesday.

Monday night more than three inches of rain fell on tobacco and hay fields.

The prayer meeting was changed to a thanksgiving service and the church was filled.

Red China Becoming Ominous

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

There are ominous signs that the Red Chinese, angry and frustrated because of Premier Khrushchev's policies of peaceful coexistence, are hell-bent for reckless action in Asia. They may even be toying with the idea of risking renewed war in Korea.

The Red Chinese attitude, reflected in recent statements by Asian Communist leaders, appears to be a direct result of the Soviet-British-U.S. agreement to discontinue all nuclear tests except those underground.

The ambushing of U.S. soldiers in South Korea looked anything but accidental. The Red Chinese are making noises indicating they want to apply the heat once again in that area.

In Southeast Asia, Peking indicates an impatience to clean up the situation in Indochina and drive the West and its influence out of South Viet Nam and Laos. The war in Viet Nam may get hotter.

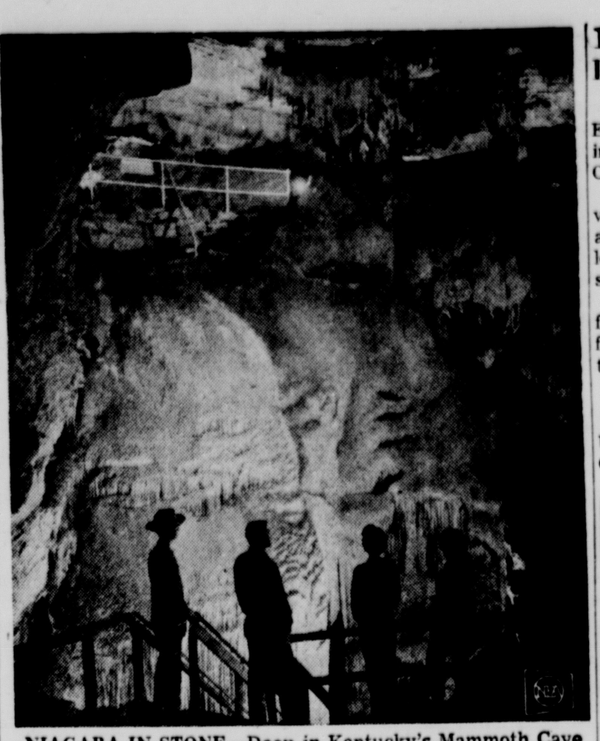

Indian Prime Minister Nehru has warned his people to be ready for any eventuality, as if expecting that a Red Chinese buildup along India's borders may be the prelude to new warlike pressures.

Peking is getting all-out support from the North Korean Communists in the argument with Moscow about how world communism should advance. The Soviets seem to have lost all control over the North Koreans. This may be true, too, in smoldering Indochina.

Backed by the Chinese, North Korean Communist leaders are sounding as truculent as they did before an armistice halted the Korean action 10 years ago.

Recently a high-ranking North Korean Communist toured Red China. On his return last week to Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, he said in a speech that "one half of our territory (meaning South Korea) is under the occupation of the U.S. imperialists and we have not yet completed the national liberation revolution."

"National liberation" is a Communist way of describing a war to advance communism. It is Red China's contention that Khrushchev's policy of easing tensions with the West hampers the "national liberation movement."

NIAGARA IN STONE—Deep in Kentucky's Mammoth Cave visitors view what appears to be a 75-foot high frozen Niagara. This cave-onyx formation is the largest in this underground tourist attraction. Thousands of years have gone into the making of this Niagara in stone, the stalactites growing downward as water seeping from the ceiling leaves behind calcium carbonate it carried in solution.

15-Year-Old Drowns In Clay County Pond

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles E. Gee Jr., 15, drowned Tuesday in a pond near his home in Clay County.

Donald Chambers, 16, told investigators he swam with Charles about half an hour, and when he left Charles said he was going to swim for another hour or so.

Charles E. Gee went to look for his son about supper-time and found his clothes on the bank of the pond.

Greatest potash deposits in the United States are found near Carlsbad, N. M.

'Bee Hive' of Activity

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—It all started when a horse knocked over a hive.

Bees swarmed out and stung the horse, which promptly kicked over two more hives. More bees came out fighting.

A horseman, Duane V. Ogle, was thrown to the ground and kicked in the head, but escaped serious injury.

Ely Swearingen, 63, a commercial beekeeper, came running out to help and was stung 50 times. His wife suffered more than 75 stings. Their daughter, Roberta, 18, was stung more than 100 times.

All were reported recovering in a hospital. A horse they own died of stings. Ogle's horse is recovering.

It might have been even more serious, but firemen and police came out and drove off the bees.

First systematic experiments in weather telegraphy and forecasting began about 1860 and were conducted in England and France, as well as by the Smithsonian Institution, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Congressional Record An Outlet for Writers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are you a frustrated author who can't find an understanding publisher?

Are you a poet without recognition in your own community?

Aren't your after dinner speeches appreciated by local press?

If your ability as a writer or orator are not properly appreciated don't fret.

Uncle Sam will print the stuff for you if you'll mail it to your senator or congressman, if it isn't too voluminous.

The medium of publication will be the Congressional Record, current circulation about 45,000 copies daily. It's published every day the Senate or the House meets. This year it has published 16,877 pages or printed matter at an average cost of $90 per page or a total of about $1.5 million.

The record is split into two sections, published together.

The first part supposedly is an account of what goes on in the legislative halls, although it doesn't always work that way. It is called the body of the record, as distinguished from the appendix.

The body is not always reliable. Frequently, speeches made on the Senate or House floors don't show up anywhere in the record, while speeches not actually delivered are printed in full over several pages. This is because members have the right to "revise and extend" their remarks. They can edit them, eliminate them, or add to them at will.

It's difficult for a non-member to have his material printed in the body of the record, but all it usually takes is a postage stamp, an envelope and a friendly congressman to get material published in the appendix.

Almost everything under the sun shows up in the appendix, despite a formal limitation of two pages per article. This restriction can be waived by unanimous consent, which invariably is granted.

There is no limit on how many times the same article can be published. Rep. Paul C. Jones, D-Mo., who has been campaigning without much success to cut down the size of the record, recently noted that three members inserted the same newspaper column three times in the same issue.

Three letters written from the Birmingham city jail by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., integrationist leader, showed up in one edition.

One member recently inserted in two separate editions an identical table showing the results of a questionnaire.

Another had published four reports from students back home who visited Washington.

Senator Robert C. Byrd has been filling the appendix with articles on just about every county and historic event in West Virginia.

An idea of the kind of material that finds its way into the appendix can be obtained from the headlines over the articles.

A few examples:

"Cooking a goose on a grid."

"Loren Loomis of Enid, Okla., writes to his grandson about the national debt."

"Is Congress hexed?"

"Nutmeg State potentate."

"Meet Dick Maher, seer of Cleveland politics."

"Corn tassel for national flower."

"The trigger is pulled on the cocked pistol."

"It's a darn shame."

"First Grimes golden apple grown in Brooke County, W.Va."

"The shoemaker should stick to his last."

"A California poet speaks on the four freedoms."

A study by Jones indicated that about 5 per cent of the membership of Congress accounts for most of the articles published.

"If everyone did what these 5 per cent do," he said, "there wouldn't be enough printers in Washington to print the record."

He suggested that space in the appendix be rationed on an annual basis, with each member being limited to about $7,500 worth of publication space, or about 85 pages. Some members he said, have run up printing bills in excess of $20,000 this year.

Peddlers Of Patriotism . . .

We hear a great deal from our politicians about some of the nation's foremost heroes—George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson.

To invoke the greatness of the historic past is not only natural but ought to be a highly inspiring exercise. Yet with too many politicians it has become automatic, perfunctory, unthinking.

The real purpose of much party speechmaking is to belabor the opposition with full force. No one can sensibly object to highly charged political debate. We must have it. But there is more than a little artifice in conducting it against a backdrop of our past greatness.

Most of the politicians who so disport themselves probably know very little of American history, though they glibly deal in great names.

How many, for instance, would believe that George Washington, during the French and Indian War years before the Revolution, was once briefly under suspicion for treason? How many know that at least three times he narrowly missed death during that same period?

How many know how strongly governed Washington was in his public duty by his deep sense of pride, his concern for his honor and reputation before the world he moved in?

Who among our speakers on the political circuit has sampled the rewarding evidences of friendship between Jefferson and John Adams?

This was a bond hugely helpful to a budding nation, a link which weakened in later years only to be restored as the two men neared death.

With his dying breath, Adams, in Massachusetts, was moved to say: "Thank God Thomas Jefferson still lives." But he was wrong. That very morning, a few hours earlier, Jefferson, his great friend, had died in Virginia.

How wide is the appreciation among our Lincoln - Jefferson - Jackson day orators that Adams is rated by historians as a "near great" among U.S. presidents? That James K. Polk, little heard of, is another?

The truth is that our politicians generally do not know their historic past much better than do most Americans—and that is not very well. Innumerable surveys of students and adults alike have made the point forcefully.

Some year the politicians ought to devote their campaign festival to a real consideration of history, with the notable aim of stirring among Americans a genuine interest in the historic roots of the "Americanism" they hear so much about.

Americanism ought to be a living, breathing thing, built from an unending stream of life in which we all can move. For too many it is a marble statue, aloof on a pedestal.

BOSTON GLOBE: He Beat It to Death.—A California policeman, sent to investigate a commotion the other day, reported that the owner of an automobile seemed to be trying to beat it to death with a sledge-hammer.

To that angry motorist the hearts of many go out in sympathy.

When the old heap quits in traffic, when the wheels yaw, when it spits and barks, when it won't start, when it develops illnesses which defy diagnosis, then comes the urge to attribute human malice to the inanimate object.

Not many of us have the glorious fury of the Californian, who certainly showed that old piece of junk who was boss. But almost everybody has been tempted. What makes it worse is that nobody can get away with abandoning a vehicle, or running it into the ocean. Beating it to death is about the only legal way to get even with it.

Civil Rights Bill Under Heavy Fire

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern politicians have attacked President Kennedy's civil rights bill, now in Congress, from seven main directions.

But Mississippians particularly have personally attacked the President and his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Although the announced purpose of the bill is to guarantee Negroes equal treatment, the Southerners, all Democrats, have spent little time on Negroes' rights.

Here are the seven directions they've taken so far in statements at congressional committee hearings:

The Kennedys are trying to grab more power and have encouraged the Negroes' demonstrations; Communists must be mixed up in the Negroes' activities; and the bill is unconstitutional, is a shortcut to tyranny, is an invitation to violence, and would deprive all Americans of personal and property rights.

The most controversial part of the bill — the one which has brought the most strenuous Southern objections — involves public accommodations.

It would ban discrimination against Negroes in business places catering to the public, such as stores, restaurants, motels.

The personal attacks on the President and his brother came from three Mississippians — Gov. Ross Barnett, Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson and Sen. John F. Stennis — and from Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace.

Barnett accused the President of "Sowing seeds of hate and violence," said his brother is personally responsible for "putting mobs in the street," and blamed both Kennedys for encouraging demonstrations, sit-ins and local law violations.

Patterson said Robert Kennedy has "demonstrated his immaturity, irresponsibility and fiendish delight" in wielding power and that the two Kennedys are "far more responsible" for racial violence than the "ruthless leaders who are promoting racial unrest."

Stennis called the civil rights bill a "colossal grab for power by the attorney general."

Wallace accused the President of bringing the nation "to the brink of civil war" by what he termed an attempt to appease the leaders of the Negro civil rights demonstrations.

South Carolina Gov. Donald Russell denounced the bill as "coercive legislation" which will "breed resistance and perhaps violence."

Louisiana Rep. Joe D. Waggonner Jr. said the President has issued an "open invitation to mass violence" by warning that if Congress fails to enact his bill Negroes will seek a "remedy" in the streets.

Wallace, South Carolina Sen. Strom Thurmond and Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett thought they saw Communist influence behind Negro demands for equal rights. None proved anything of the kind.

Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and James O. Eastland of Mississippi, members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, hit the bill from another direction.

Ervin called it a "short-cut to government tyranny" and Eastland denounced it as a "complete blueprint for a totalitarian state."

Ervin, once a justice on the North Carolina Supreme Court, in civil rights fights in Congress over the years usually has challenged the constitutionality of a bill. He challenged this one, too.

He said it would deprive all Americans of personal and property rights.

Kennedy, anticipating this kind of argument when he sent his civil rights bill to Congress along with his message explaining it, said: "Abraham Lincoln, in issuing the Emancipation Proclamation 100 years ago, was also accused of violating the property rights of slave-owners. Indeed, there is an age-old saying that 'property has its duties as well as its rights.'"

Washington Merry-Go-Round

First Steps On Journey Toward Peace

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson, who has covered more International Conferences and interviewed more leaders than perhaps anyone in Washington, today reports on Kennedy's step toward peace.)

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A lot of memories came crowding back as I listened to John F. Kennedy tell the nation that even if our goal of peace is a thousand miles away we have to take the first step.

I remembered many other first steps.

There was that of Frank B. Kellogg, Secretary of State under Coolidge, fretting, persevering, indefatigably working to negotiate a pact to outlaw war. I went with him to Paris to sign that Kellogg-Briand Pact. He hoped and the world hoped it would be a long step toward peace.

Perhaps it was too long. But, anyway, I remember another Republican Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson, when he tried to implement Kellogg's work. He went to London in 1930 to try to persuade the big powers to reduce their navies. I went with him, watched his patient, plodding, idealistic steps toward peace.

Later as the dictators of Italy and Germany worked against him, Stimson went to Geneva, even though the United States was not a member of the League of Nations. Republican isolationists didn't like it, but Stimson, a Republican, went anyway.

And at nights, facing the discouragements of old world diplomacy, Stimson couldn't sleep. He would look out at the poplar trees and see in the night the line of men from the fields, the factories, the sea, going forward; and the line of women, wounded men, exhausted troops falling back. A panorama of World War I in which he had fought lay before him. Most of his years had been given to trying to rebuild better understanding. And he had failed.

"How heavy," he wrote a friend, "a simple dove, bearing the olive branch, can weigh upon a man's wrist."

Years of Agony

World War II broke after that — years of agony, years of suffering, years of death. John F. Kennedy, a young Naval officer, knew something of that agony during a long tropic night in the South Seas. Nikita Khrushchev knew far more of that death and suffering during a freezing winter at Stalingrad when his country stood with its back to the wall, when his son was killed and when he occupied a dug-out which his own troops had time-bombed against the day when the Nazis would take it.

Came the end of the war, and new steps in the thousand mile journey, back toward peace.

I remember Jimmy Byrnes as Secretary of State at the Paris Peace Conference in 1946. He argued patiently with Molotov. Jimmy had a temper, but kept it under control—for the sake of that first step toward peace.

But Molotov did not want peace, and later Khrushchev told me some of the reasons why.

I remember another conference in Geneva—The Summit Meeting of 1955, after Stalin died and a new Red regime ruled in Moscow. Khrushchev came to Geneva. I remember how he stayed in the background and let Bulganin do the talking.

End Of Iron Curtain

That conference accomplished one thing—people to people friendship. The iron curtain was on its way down. People of the East and West could now talk to each other. It didn't seem like much, but to me it meant a lot. I had been writing about it, harping on it for a long time, talked to Ike about it even when he was President of Columbia. And eventually people-to-people friendship came to mean a lot to the world, for it began to show individual Russians and Americans that they could trust each other.

Came 1959 and the Camp David talks. Ike and Khrushchev seemed to like each other. Later Khrushchev told me he thought Ike was a man who sincerely wanted peace but couldn't control his own administration.

At the Summit Conference in Paris in May, 1960, it looked as if he hadn't been able to control the U-2 spy plane and some of the people around him.

Basically Khrushchev was right about Ike, in his clumsy, sometimes faltering way, Ike did want peace. And his greatest disappointment was that failure.

John F. Kennedy, who picked up the pieces after him, thinking diplomacy was easy, also failed at first. His meeting with Khrushchev in Vienna was a miserable failure. He came home a shaken, discouraged man.

But he had won one victory which he didn't realize — Khrushchev's respect. "President Kennedy is a man you can disagree with but still respect," Khrushchev told me at the Black Sea in the summer of 1961.

He also told me, as we parted after two days' conversation: "Please see President Kennedy when you return and tell him everything I've said. Also tell him that if the United States and Russia stand together, no country can ever start war."

Some people criticized me for believing Khrushchev meant what he said. But I still believe it. And the difference between the discouraging first steps toward peace taken by Kellogg and Stimson and Jimmy Byrnes, and the first step taken by Kennedy and Khrushchev is first, the fact that if two of the strongest nations in the world do stand together, no one can successfully start war; and second, both Khrushchev and Kennedy understand the horror of nuclear war.

Those two factors were not present in the days of those earlier faltering steps.

And that's why the Kennedy - Khrushchev first step in the 1,000 miles toward peace may succeed.

(Editor's Note — Whether it will succeed depends in part on the military. Drew Pearson will discuss this in an early column.)

New Uses From Old

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — You wrote recently that you were afraid to throw anything away because somebody always pops up with a way it could have been used. Here is another thing for you to hold on to — old purses and wallets. The good parts of the leather or plastic make excellent insoles. Use the old sole as a pattern and paste the new one in with household cement. This soft leather or plastic can also be used to cover buttons and belt buckles. — MRS. I. vonH.

DEAR POLLY — I think I have an improvement on the use of nylon net for dishcloths. I got the cheaper grade of wash cloths and sewed the net on one side. This is wonderful for removing dried eggs, etc. from dishes, pots and pans. The cloth side is used for glasses and easy-to-clean dishes. This little idea may cause scouring pads to go out of style. — MRS. E. A. M.

DEAR POLLY — When cutting roses from your rose bushes, hold the branch with a clip-on clothespin to keep from pricking your fingers with the thorns. — MRS. H. G.

DEAR POLLY — Other mothers who sew for their daughters know as I do that straight pins won't hold in net unless it is being used over a firmer fabric. I use toothpicks to hold the net in place for measuring and cutting to really simplify the job.

Also, old bobby socks make ideal dish rags. Just cut the tops off and use them double, or split them and crochet around the edges to prevent raveling. — MRS. J. H. S.

DEAR POLLY—If young mothers find their children's appetites become jaded during the hot weather, let them eat out of a school lunch box. Makes it seem like a picnic and it is amazing how quickly the milk goes down when poured from a little vacuum bottle. This makes a game of eating, so it is fun. — MRS. A.

DEAR POLLY — To make a pillbox hat frame, you can use the bottom of a big plastic bleach bottle. Wash it out thoroughly and then cut off the top to the desired depth of your hat. For ventilation, make holes in the bottom of the bottle. To secure the material to this frame, use thick white, quick-setting glue that dries clear. When the threads of nylon headbands get snagged, pull the threads in to the back with a crochet hook and the bands will look like new.— JUDITH

DEAR POLLY—If the vacuum cleaner bag is emptied into a WET paper bag there will not be so much dust flying around.

Also if baby's plastic pants are washed in hot water and rinsed in hot water they will stay soft much longer. Quick drying, as over a register, also helps. It is the rinsing in cold water that hardens them.

I also dip cotton swabs in oil before cleaning the children's ears. No more yelling from my three as this cleans the wax off without pressure.

The Mature Parent

Breach In Family Circle

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Our son is dating a girl we don't trust or like. During the recent holidays he insisted on invting her to family celebrations. We agreed because we know parents' opposition to children's relationships is supposed to encourage the attachments. But this girl is really hard to take . . .

ANSWER: We can't like people because our children do. And I personally deplore the child guidance advice that tells us to pretend we do. For such acts fool nobody.

Our child knows — and his friend senses — that we are assuming an approving front with our own separating purpose in mind. We resent our own dishonesty.

Such psychological advice benefits nobody, and irritates our real problem — fear of our dislike.

So I urge you to try and relax about yours. If we can peacefully accept our dislike of a child's friend, he can begin to live with it, too. When he pushes us for our opinion of the aggressive girl, we can tell him the truth without anxiety, saying:

"I don't like her. She may have many fine qualities which you can see in her — but I don't have to see them because you do."

Because we can be content in our differing opinion, our son may be disappointed in us but it won't destroy him. The calm with which we express our right to disagree with him helps him to accept his right to disagree with us.

If we are relaxed enough about our right to dislike his girl, we may begin to actually see her. We may be able to perceive, for example, that the possessiveness and brashness we have found so offensive is her discomfort with us — her expectation of our dislike expressed in challenging behavior. We find we can "take" her, not as a prospective member of the family, but as a struggling young human creature.

But unless this acceptance is rooted in unanxious acceptance of our original dislike, it's phoney—and simply creates more painful constraint for everyone.

Like so much child psychology advice, the idea that we can wean a child from an undesirable attachment by pretending to accept it does not consider parents. It does not consider our proper resentment at the obligation to lie about our feelings.

Age Is No Mellower

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Entperise Assn.

Mean people are likely to grow ever meaner as they reach middle age, says a British psychiatrist.

Well, that figures. Most people don't change a great deal through the years, except to grow "More so." What the added years seem to do is to exaggerate the qualities a person had when he was young.

It takes a strong effort of will for the impatient person to develop patience, for the timid to gain courage, for the lazy to develop good work habits, for the easily hurt to grow a thicker skin, for the busybody to learn to live and let live — and for the mean person to learn to be kind and compassionate.

Age of itself doesn't automatically make anyone a better person. Those who are better human beings at middle age, and still better in their later years of life, got that way by hard, consistent effort.

The young person who wishes he had a better disposition, or who wishes he weren't such a procrastinator, or who would like to have more ambition, or who longs to be more likable than he is, should start early to root out his worst flaws. He should strive to develop those qualities that he most admires in others.

If he just hopes to improve with age, he won't.

It's not just the mean who become meaner with age. Age intensifies all faults — unless, of course, a person works hard to replace the things he doesn't like in himself with the qualities he covets.

IT WASN'T HIS BIRTHDAY or any special day, but it was a big day to the not yet three-year-old, when a package for him came in the mail from his aunt.

He hurriedly tore it open and held up a bright pair of sox, one in each hand.

"Look" he exclaimed excitedly to his mother, "She sent me sox —" and looking from one to the other delightedly added, "two of them." — H. L.

SEVENTEEN MONTHS OLD Mark has been taught that when he wants something, to sit down. So when his grandmother, who was washing dishes saw him sit down and say "Umm," stretch out his hands and wiggle his fingers she knew that he wanted something. But she didn't know what.

"Do you want a drink?" she asked.

He shook his head no — but continued to reach and grunt.

"Do you want some milk?" she wanted to know and that was not it either. She continued to guess things that he might want but she wasn't doing a very good job. She guessed everything she could think of, and when his mother walked in the door she was still guessing.

"What in the world does he want?" she asked her daughter. "I know he wants something because he sat down and keeps grunting and reaching. But what is it?"

"He wants soapsuds," said the young mother. And she walked over to the dishpan, picked up a couple of hand fulls of soapsuds and gave to him.

He smiled up at her and then delighted began hitting the suds with both hands breaking the bubbles. — H. L.

Ten Members of Sedalia Chiefs On Division All-Star Team Lineup

Western Division Team Managers Make Selection

The Sedalia Chiefs copped all but two places on the Western Division starting lineup for the Central Missouri Ban Johnson All-Star game to be played Friday at Boonville. Names of players on the two all-star teams were made public Wednesday.

Ten men from the Chiefs' roster were voted to the all-star squad by managers of the Western Division teams. The starting linup for the western division looks like this:

Judging from recent statistics on the eastern and western division players, the all-star game should be highly competitive. Sedalia's Lonnie Schott leads the two squads in batting averages, with a .429, followed by Ernie Dow with a .396 and Bob Lange with a .360. Top in the eastern division is Moberly's Chandler, with a .386, followed by Boonville's Wooldridge, .370, and Columbia's Guescher, .359.

Lonnie Schott has scored 24 runs for the Chiefs this season, but he is followed closely by the eastern division's C. Waggoner, Jefferson City, with 23. The eastern division has superiority in hitters, with Moberly's Chandler and Boonville's Wooldridge tied with 27 for the year. High in the western division is the Chiefs' Ernie Dow, with 21.

Strong home run hitters are to be found in the eastern division with Kirkman of Moberly having six for the season, and Barnes and Chandler, both of Moberly, tying with four homers. Topping the western division in homers is Ernie Dow, who has slammed four.

The eastern division seems to be fleet-footed on the bases, with Moberly's Chandler taking 24 stolen bases and eight men in the eastern division stealing more than six bases. High in the western division is Sedalia's Ron Mooney and Lonnie Schott, who have six apiece.

There should be quite a pitcher's duel in the all-star round, with the eastern division sending to the mound Gary Campbell, Columbia, with a 6-1 record and a 1.88 earned run average. The western division hurler, Fletcher, has a 5-0 record and an earned run average of 0.21. Campbell has 88 strikeouts for the season, compared to Fletcher's 46.

In Tuesday's Little League majors action, Adco and Jaycees took the wins.

In the first game at Liberty Park, Optimist defeated Adco 6-3, with Jerry Lewis taking the pitching laurels and Wayne Goosen chalking down the loss. However, Optimist was forced to forfeit the game to Adco after Adco protested the game due to ineligible players on the Optimist squad.

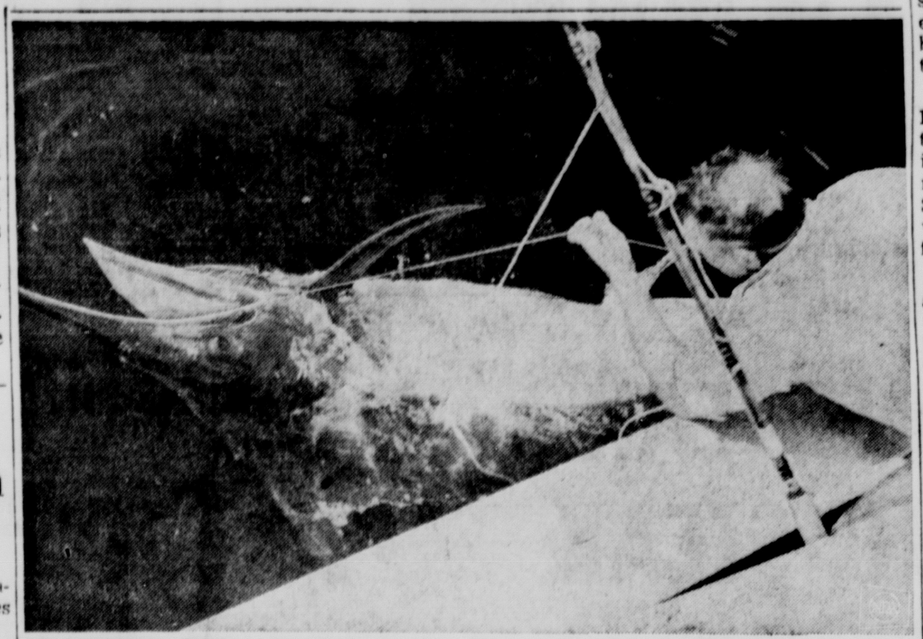

The second majors game saw Jaycees overwhelm Elks 12-1. Terry Hudson was the winning pitcher, with Ben Embree taking the loss.

The results of the second majors game Monday night, previously unavailable, was Elks 11, Rotary 8. Don Crank was the winner, with Jim Wanserski taking the loss.

The second game in the A's at Centennial Park Monday night was Ice 15, Lions 4. Kent Cordry was the winning hurler, with Whitfield taking the mound loss for Lions.

Tuesday night at Housel Park, Ice handed Lions a 12-6 loss in the "C" league game. Greg Boehne was the winner for Ice, while Andy Kindle walked away with the loss.

In probably the best "B" game of the year, Lions defeated Ice 4-2 in the second game at Housel Park Tuesday. Robbie Davis was the winning pitcher for Lions, with Charles Mecum taking the loss.

BIG GAFFER—Ed Dunedin of Kansas City, Mo., went far awater to land this huge black marlin. The 328-pound beauty is ready to gaff at Bay of Islands, New Zealand.

Broglio Cuts Reds To A Single Run

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ernie Broglio was demoted to the St. Louis Cardinals builpen 48-hours before the Cincinnati Reds came to St. Louis. But the stocky Cardinal pitcher probably earned a reprive Tuesday night by coming on in relief to beat the Reds 7-5.

Broglio, succeeding a battered Lew Burdette, restricted the Reds to only one run and five hits during his six and a third innings of relief. He struck out seven. Bobby Shantz finished up to preserve the win for Broglio, who is now 11-7 for the season.

In New York another of those ailing New York Yankees returned to the lineup Tuesday to beat the Kansas City Athletics 6-2.

John Blanchard returned to action after a five-day tussle with bronchitis to hit the first pitch thrown to him for a tie-breaking single as the Yankees scored four runs in the eighth to break a 2-2 tie.

Blanchard's key hit came against loser Moe Drabowsky.

Yankee pitcher John Bouton racked up his 14th victory against five losses. He had trouble only with Wayne Causey who got a home run and two doubles to account for three of Kansas City's seven hits.

The Cardinals trailing 5-3, rallied for three runs in the fifth inning. Julian Javier's single, and a walk, set the stage for run-scoring singles by Curt Flood and Dick Groat.

Bill White and Charley James homered for the Cardinals.

Bob Gibson (12-4) will pitch for the Cardinals in Busch Stadium tonight against Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole (13-9).

In New York, Kansas City will send Diego Segui (6-4) against the Yankee's Ralph Terry (11-10).

Pleasant Hill Downs Iberia

The only game played in the State Tournament, Tuesday night, was that between the Iberia Merchants and Pleasant Hill. It turned into a "bob-tailed" contest with Pleasant Hill winning 16 to 1, the game called at the end of the fifth due to the tournament rule of a team leading by 12 runs at that point is declared the winner and the game called.

Bud Lathrop on the mound for Iberia went to pieces in the second inning and was relieved after four runs had scored by Al Knox. Knox stayed through to the fifth inning when he was relieved by Ollie Smith.

Pleasant Hill scored their five in the second, three in the third and four in the fourth. Iberia was not to be shutout collecting one score in the bottom of the fourth, and the boys from the "Hill" came back to put across four more in the top of the fifth to practically assure them a victory. It was doubtful Iberia could collect any runs in the bottom half from the early innings performances of the batters.

The win for Pleasant Hill moves them out in the winners bracket to meet the Sedalia Merchants in the 9 o'clock Friday night game. Iberia drops to the losers bracket to play Columbia on Sunday.

Pleasant Hill went into the lead in the top of the second inning when Bud Lathrop lost his control. Wayne Wash walked. Gary Parker beat out an infield hit. Mel Mayfield bunted for a hit loading the bases. Clay Ross sacrificed and Wash scored. Mike Compton walked to load up the bases. On a wild pitch Parker scored. On a fielders choice Jerry Burke was safe and Mayfield scored. Larry Ford walked loading the bases. Cliff Crenshaw was out Al Knox to John Beardon, the ball hitting Knox on the leg and rolled over to Beardon, Compton scored on the play. Larry Bowes beat out an infield hit and Burke scored. Wash grounded to Knox. Five runs, three hits and no errors.

Then the Pleasant Hill boys came back in the top of the third to add three more runs. Parker led off with a single. Mayfield flied out to center. Ross safe on a fielders choice as was Parker at second. Compton singled to left field and Parker scored. Burke out third to first. Ford got a two base hit to left field, Ross and Compton both scoring. Crenshaw struck out. Three runs, three hits and no errors.

The fourth inning saw the Pleasant Hill aggregation add four more runs to move their lead to 12 to 0. Bowes led the inning off being safe at first on the right field error, stopping at second. Wash beat out an infield hit. Parker and Mayfield struck-out. Bowes and Wash advanced on a double steal. Ross singled through second, Bowes scoring. Compton singled to right center loading the bases. Burke singled to center, Wash, Ross and Compton scoring. On the throw to home plate, Welch shot the ball back to second and caught Burke at the bag. Four runs, four hits and one error.

Iberia collected its first score in the bottom of the fourth. Lloyd Burgess popped to Ford at second. John Beardon singled to left. Christopher flied out to center. Denny Thompson walked. Don Welch singled to centerfield and Beardon scored. Bill Gould struck out. One run, two hits and no errors.

Pleasant Hill continued the attack scoring four runs in the top of the fifth. Ford first batter got a walk. Crenshaw singled to left. Ford to third and Crenshaw to second on the throw in. Bowes doubled to left field scoring Ford and Crenshaw. Wash doubled to centerfield to score Bowes. Parker out pitcher to first. Mayfield flied to second. Ross doubled to deep right center scoring Wash. Compton flied out to center. Four runs, four hits and one error.

The game was called at the end of the fifth with Pleasant Hill leading 16 to 1, in accordance with the tournament ruling of a team leading by 12 at the end of the fifth, the game is called.

Whiteman AFB took a forfeit win from Fulton in the first scheduled game Tuesday night in the state semi-pro tournament.

Fulton could field only five men, and after 30 minutes had passed, the game was ruled a 9-0 win for Whiteman. Fulton lost their first game last Tuesday to Iberia, and the second loss puts them out of the tourney.

With the win, Whiteman advances in the tourney and will face the Concordia Merchants in the first game Friday night.
